

Establish temperature and humidity standards to eliminate poor air quality that results in mold and contributes to respiratory health problems for students and staff

Require school districts show they are meeting School Indoor Air Quality (IAQ) standards

Identify funding sources, such as school construction funding, to assist cities and towns with installations or repairs to heating or cooling systems

